For CLC

The spring semester classes started at the College of Lake County with 3,918 students.

The College of Lake County, a two-year public community college now in its second year of operation, provides opportunities in higher education on its permanent campus site, located near Grayslake, and evening extension centers in Waukegan and Lake Zurich.

A. Harris Moeller, director of admissions, reported that 1,687 are full-time students, 2,231 are part-time students. Students who reside within the college district number 3,657.

The remaining 281 are residents of Illinois but live outside of the college district 532.

No out-of-state students are currently enrolled at CLC.

Enrollment reports for the second semester indicate that 2,466 students are registered as freshmen, 751 as sophomores, and 681 as special and adult education students.

Nearly 1,500 students are enrolled in the university parallel program designed to prepare students to enter colleges at the junior level; 1,203 are in career programs designed to lead to employment in a wide variety of occupations; and 377 signed up for adult education programs which provide opportunities for personal improvement through cultural, civic and recreational courses.

Antioch Gets $9,936 From Income Tax

State Senator Robert Coulson, Republican from Waukegan and assistant minority leader, today disclosed that Illinois municipalities and counties in his Senatorial District have received $51,419 as their share of State income tax collections for January.

Antioch has received $9,936 in the current fiscal year.

The county government, paid on the basis of the population of their unincorporated territory, received $16,050. Villages and cities, paid on the basis of the population within their borders, received $35,369.

Payments this month, Coulson said, bring the total paid this fiscal year under the State's revenue sharing program to villages, cities and counties in his district to $1,024,192. The corresponding figures for the entire state are $1,967,217, for the month of January, and $39,206,411 for the fiscal year to date.

"At a time when local governments nationwide are being forced into programs of retrenchment because of a growing financial crisis," Coulson remarked, "I think it is particularly important to note that Illinois was the first state in the Union to institute a program of no-strings-attached sharing of income tax revenue with its local governments."

"Illinois local government is under the same kind of pressure as other localities. As a result," Coulson concluded, "in many

Sewer Construction Ban Possible -- Toft

Sanitary sewer construction could be halted in Antioch in the future by the Environmental Protection Agency.

The observation was made by Village Mayor Raymond Toft at a joint meeting Tuesday night of three Antioch governmental agencies to consider a pre-annexation agreement of 27 acres north of the new Upper Grade School of District 34 and just west of Tiffany Road.

Having visited Springfield recently, the mayor said he learned from state officials, "It doesn't look good for your area. We don't know how long we are going to allow you to put in new sanitary sewers."

The mayor pointed to Waukegan and Mundelein which have been banned from constructing new sewers by the Environmental Protection Agency.

Mayor Toft said the village engineer is working on plans for the expansion of the Antioch Sanitary District plant, and a meeting has been set for Feb. 25 with the bonding company to discuss the village's financing status.

It was agreed at the meeting Tuesday night that the backers of the project Dr. Edward Abderholden, Dr. John Loring, Dr. Albert Bucar and Ted and Robert Costoff through their attorney file a petition with the Zoning Board of Appeals for a public hearing on the zoning of the 27 acres.

A public hearing will follow the zoning hearing on the pre-annexation.

Meeting Program Changed

After Harold W. Lindberg was installed as president of the Antioch Area Chapter, No. 378, of the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) as of September, 1970, he suggested that meetings be changed to every Tuesday of the month as follows:

First Tuesday, movies; second Tuesday, regular business; third Tuesday, play cards; fourth Tuesday, regular business.

It was necessary to make the program change as the chapter has reached membership of 200, and the officers figured in this way the meetings could be broken into smaller gatherings, as it does get rather crowded when the attendance is at 70 or 80 with the tables and chairs.

The Chain O' Lakes area has for years been the main recreational area for millions of people.

Each year, in Northern Lake County, there occur a number of drownings, and the need was felt to eliminate the number of fatalities.

In order to have available immediate aid for drowning victims, the Antioch Fire Department Underwater Recovery team was organized.

Frank Johnson, who became dive master, and eleven other firemen volunteered to take scuba diver training needed for this service.

After six four-hour sessions of scuba diving school, they received certified diver diplomas.

Because of the many lakes in Lake County, other fire departments have also now formed teams. Today there are over 60 scuba diving volunteer firemen in Lake County, the largest such organization in the United States.

In 1969, the Lake County Firemen's Assn. gave recognition to these groups and formed a new organization controlled solely by scuba divers. Its main function is to maintain communication

He was born March 2, 1913 in Lake Villa, Ill., and had lived in Antioch for many years until moving to Salem in 1943. He had been associated with Murrie's Service Station in Antioch for many years and had presently been employed at Jack Senior's Truck Stop on Russell Rd., near Russell, Ill.

Survivors are his wife, Peg; two sons: James Murrie of Salem and William Murrie of Wilmet, Wis.; one brother, Lloyd E. Murrie of Antioch. A granddaughter also survives.

Funeral services were held Saturday, Feb. 20 at 1:30 p.m. at the Strang Funeral Home, Antioch. The Rev. L. H. Messerschmidt of the Millburn Congregational Church officiated. Interment was in Hillside Cemetery, Antioch.

High School PTA To Hold Bake Sale

Date of March 13 has been set for a bake sale sponsored by the Antioch High School PTA.

The ways and means chairman Barbara Mitchell and her committee decided this as a fund raising activity to swell the scholarship fund for this year.

The place will be at the First National Bank from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. There will be pastries, breads and a variety of goodies in many different sizes and shapes.

Board To Save Dollars On Improvement

About $725 will be saved by the Antioch High School District in allowing staff members to make improvements to the arts and crafts room of the new building addition.

The figure of $725 is less than estimates given by the architects. The board also learned that two teachers, Mrs. Betty Scott of the Spanish department and Elmo Edwards of the science department, will retire in June.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Jeanette Tulumello of the social studies department will be completing her 25th year at the school.

Robert Lindblad was named chairman and William Petty and Robert Denman members of the board's salary committee.

Named to the budget committee were Dr. Albert Bucar, chairman, and Mrs. Bette Meyer and Gus Costoff.

The board approved $16,446 for the purchase of two buses and authorized the hiring of a power mechanics teacher for the industrial arts department.

A summer reading program will be held at the high school for the fourth straight year.

Girl Scout Leaders Honored

It takes a lot of help to offer Girl Scouting to over four thousand girls.

The leaders who donate their time and talents to helping youth develop through scouting were honored at a luncheon at the Holiday Inn, Gurnee, Feb. 25.

The luncheon was sponsored by the Lakeview Council, an agency of the United Fund of Lake County.

The theme of the luncheon focused on the 10th anniversary of the local council, according to Mrs. Vera Small, Libertyville, chairman of the event.

Thomas C. Lembcke, executive director of the Council offered a multi-media presentation entitled "Girl Scouting, Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow."

Leaders who have been registered Scouts for five, ten, fifteen and twenty years received special recognition and numeral pins signifying their honor.

Kay Costoff and Phyllis Bucar, co-chairman of the Mental Health Cotillion, prepare for "Burst of Spring" style show to be held at 8:00 p.m. at Lorenz's Smart Country House on Rte. 173. Tickets will be available at the door.

Chamber Delegation Visits State Capitol

Grant Spong, president of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce, Mayor Ray Toft, George Hahn, a member of the Chamber's Legislative Committee, and Joanne Shute, the Chamber's Executive Secretary, spent the day in Springfield.

Their morning schedule included a visitation with Governor Ogilvie and meetings with Representatives John Conolly and John Matijevich. Both representatives discussed legislation that will be affecting Lake County with the delegates.

At noon the delegation attended an Illinois State Chamber of Commerce Legislative Report Luncheon, accompanied by Rep. Matijevich. Because of the tremendous importance of the enactment of the supporting legislation for the Local Government Article of the New Constitution, Robert J. Lehnhausen, Director, Illinois Department of Local Governmental Affairs, was the principal speaker.

Lehnhausen, a former Peoria mayor, has just celebrated the first full year of his department's existence. His insight concerning legislative needs for local government should materially add to the State Chamber's determined effort at effective legislative action on issues vital to local communities.

Following the luncheon, the Chamber's delegation met with the State's Health Department and received some helpful information pertaining to the Country-side Hospital.

Horsemanship Clinic To Be Held Saturday

A county 4-H horsemanship clinic will be held on Saturday, February 27 from 9 a.m. to noon in the indoor arena at the Gold-D-An Horse Farm, Gurnee.

The farm is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Jensen, 5555 Washington Street (Grange Hall Road) and located just west of the tollway.

The clinic has been organized by Mr. & Mrs. William Walker, local 4-H leaders, and Bill Messerschmidt, Lake County Assistant Extension Adviser.

Messerschmidt reports that instruction on both Western and English Horsemanship will be presented simultaneously. The members will receive instruction on various aspects of horsemanship including riding attire, tack, mounting and dismounting, and pointers on proper techniques and principles of riding.

The clinic is designed for 4-H members in the Horse and Pony Project, but all 4-Hers, parents, and leaders are invited to come. This could include people not in 4-H, but who are definitely interested in possibly joining 4-H in the future.

Messerschmidt stresses that it is not necessary for the members to bring their horses, if they are unable to do so, but they should attend anyway. But if possible, members should bring their horses. Following the classroom instruction, those who bring their horses will be evaluated on their riding and receive further training.

Outstanding Lake County 4-H members in horsemanship will be conducting the clinic. These 4-Hers have had a great deal of experience in horsemanship and have won many prizes in the Lake County 4-H Horse Show and other shows throughout Northern Illinois.

The members conducting the English clinic will be Linda Valenti, Lake Villa; Chuck Hegel, Waukegan; Jennifer and Jessica Butler, Mundelein; and Herb Haney, Barrington.

Conducting the Western clinic will be Bill Severson, Lake Villa; Sue Koch, Highland Park; Steve Ogden, Antioch; Jay Hoffmann, Wadsworth; and Robin and Gale Walker, Libertyville.

The clinic will be an excellent opportunity for 4-H Horse and Pony members to improve their horsemanship.

For more information, call Bill Messerschmidt at the Cooperative Extension Office, 223-5844.

A Blue and Gold Banquet was held Sunday, Feb. 21, at Oakland Grade School, Antioch, for Cub Scout Pack 192, which is sponsored by the State Bank of Antioch. Shown above is C. J. A Bold Proposal

A bold and ambitious proposal has been placed before the Antioch Board of Trustees by Mrs. Marilyn Sterbenz, village clerk, in asking for a subsidized bus service for the community.

We believe her idea requires study and consideration since it will help in reducing the serious parking problem and most important bring business into the downtown area.

Although Mrs. Sterbenz suggested that the bus service be offered on a six-day a week basis, we believe that the proposal could merit support from trustees and businessmen by offering bus transportation on Thursday, Friday and Saturday which are the heaviest shopping days.

Village trustees, while studying Mrs. Sterbenz's plan, should explore the possibility of rail and bus service for Antioch that will allow those residents without vehicles to get outside the community for a visit.

A senior citizen said it would be gratifying to be able to get away from the village without depending on someone else.

We believe Mrs. Sterbenz's proposal deserves serious consideration and support by the trustees.

Residents can make their voices heard by writing or calling their trustees—George Bartlett, J. Irving Walsh, Vern Barnstable, Robert C. Wilton, Richard H. Radke and Richard O. Burnette.

A call to Village Mayor Raymond Toft also would help.

Action Needed

The frustrations of the many state taxes which every business must pay when it sells products beyond the borders of its home state continue because of Congressional failure to act.

After ten years of consideration it appears that action may be taken this year to ease the Balkanlike array of state taxes which discourages the expansion of business enterprises, particularly for smaller companies. Often a firm is required to fill out from dozens to hundreds of individual tax forms even though it may have no employees and no permanent address in the state.

According to one of the chief supporters of the legislation, Senator Charles Mathias (R-Md.), "There is no doubt that the State statutes, regulations, and tax rules now in force or in contemplation in every one of the 50 states are seriously burdening American business—without any significant increase in the net revenue of the several states."

The House passed a bill to establish Federal jurisdictional standards for state taxation in two previous sessions, but both times the Senate failed to act. Indications are that this year the Senate will seriously consider the proposal. The long-range result of stimulating the economy provides a good reason for action.

Fees for services are adjusted according to the patient's ability to pay. The center is open daily from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

In addition to the above, there is free loan of equipment on a doctor's prescription.

The therapy center greatly depends on the generosity of Lake County residents in order to provide these services.

tion agreement to be conducted by the village board.

Informal meetings have been held with the Zoning Board of Appeals and the Planning commission. Both bodies have given their informal approval.

Atty. James Lumber of the firm of Larson and Lumber representing the developers, said his clients want the village to annex about 30 acres, with development aimed on the construction of 120 garden size apartments on a 15-acre site.

The balance of the acreage, south of Sequoit Creek, would remain in R-1 single family residential and serve as a buffer.

The land, south of the creek is not proposed for development at this date. Emphasis by the developers is on the construction of the apartment buildings under R-5 zoning (multiple family). Apartment construction will be contingent on occupancy.

Lumber said the construction of the proposed 120 apartment units would bring more people in to the village and would not cause a burden to the school.

He said the area would have an estimated valuation of $1.7 million which would bring in more real estate taxes thus benefiting the schools and villages.

"We intend to comply with existing codes in the village," Lumber said.

Mayor Toft proposed that the entire 183 acres be brought into the village at one time to give the village jurisdiction of the land for zoning.

One backer said this was not possible since they did not own the entire plot. One way that the entire plot could be brought in is to get an agreement from the contract buyers and the owner in the pre-annexation agreement, it was said.

"I don't think the owner would go for this," said one of the backers. "He wants to shed the land."

Another said to buy the balance of the land would take a lot of money which "they don't have."

Three trustees voiced approval in allowing the annexation of 27 acres into the village. They were George Bartlett, Richard Radke, and J. Irving Walsh.

"I'm for the development," said Radke. "I want to help these people."

Said Bartlett, "I'd like to see all of the land come into the village, but I can see now the valid obstacles."

Walsh commented, "I'd go for it."

The board will act on the annexation at its April 5 meeting, two weeks after the zoning board hearing and the public meeting on the pre-annexation agreement.

Clavey Opens Chapel In New County Jail

Sheriff Orville "Pat" Clavey has announced today that worship services and other church services will be conducted for the inmates of the County Jail.

A large room will be converted into a Jail Chapel where religious services will be held on selected Church Holydays and Sundays. The designated space is sufficient for conducting an open forum, group discussion, and lectures. It also has special facilities to show motion pictures.

The room was primarily designed as an in-service training program area; it may be used as a classroom for sheriff's personnel. The chapel is located on the fourth floor of the County jail, in the southwest corner of the building.

A part-time Protestant and Catholic Chaplain have a challenging opportunity to transform the space into an appropriate place for worship. An effort will be made to manipulate the physical setting so that it may take on a chapel-like atmosphere conducive to the mood for worship. Benches and other furnishings including a portable altar will be brought in to implement a chapel decorum, the Sheriff said.

Rev. Ralph Smith of the Lake County Chaplaincy Service has been working on this project with the Sheriff. "We are hoping that religious programs, in addition to church services, will include religious education and pastoral counseling for prisoners," the sheriff said.

Many prisoners, particularly if they have not previously been confined to jail, are apprehensive and lonely, with a feeling of not belonging anywhere. The misde-meanant population, both sentenced and not sentenced, presents a problem to itself, he said.

No matter how small the jail population, it contains individuals who will eventually return to the community. "The jail Chaplain has an obligation to the individual prisoner," Clavey said. "Prisoners constitute his parish; he has an obligation to bring them closer to God and their religion."

"We have made some strides toward raising the standards in

The opening of a jail chapel will help us in many ways with the rehabilitation, reformation and resocialization of prisoners before they become habituated in serious crime, Chief Deputy Jerome Schuetz said.

Each spring, Antioch's recovery team begins a training program which takes them to the major lakes in its Fire District and the county. Mr. Johnson stated that these divers test their equipment and methods of recovery, and also familiarize themselves with the different characteristics of each lake.

A display of one diver's wet suit and equipment, which costs $300, is being shown in the lobby of the State Bank of Antioch. The Bank has been very instrumental in the support of the Underwater Recovery Team, and the Fire Department wants to express its Thanks.

Fight Won In Halting Ft. Sheridan Closing

According to Congressman Robert McClory (R-Ill.): "It looks as though we have won the fight to prevent the threatened closure of Ft. Sheridan within the immediate future. I have been assured that earlier plans to close down Ft. Sheridan and other major military bases are to be rescinded. It is my understanding that the President's determination to achieve full employment contemplates the expenditure of sufficient funds to prevent any substantial dismissal of career civilian employees at Ft. Sheridan and other military bases which were similarly threatened with closure."

Earlier, the Secretary of the Army had indicated a brief reprieve. However, according to Congressman McClory: "Chairman Edward Hebert of the House Armed Services Committee, and other highly reliable sources, regard the President's Economic Message as one which will require the maintenance of existing military posts. To them and to me it would be quite inconsistent to discharge thousands of civilian military career personnel—and at the same time strive for full employment. The President has risked the consequences of a budget deficit in order to improve the national economy."

According to these Washington sources this means that Ft. Sheridan will remain as a military base — indefinitely. Congressman McClory added: "This is the best news about historic Ft. Sheridan since March 1970 when the much-publicized announcement was made transferring the Fifth Army Headquarters from Ft. Sheridan to Ft. Sam Houston, Texas. While this transfer may continue, Ft. Sheridan will undoubtedly continue its numerous other missions which it has always performed."

Congressman McClory concluded: "This latest decision appears to have the support of President Nixon, Secretary of Defense Laird, and Secretary of the Army Resor. The cooperation, particularly of my colleagues, Congressmen Leslie Arends and Melvin Price of Illinois, Bill Bray of Indiana, Durward Hall of Missouri, Lucien Nedzi of Michigan, as well as Senators Percy and Stevenson — and certainly the leadership spearheaded by Mayors Leo Kukla of North Chicago and Fidel Ghini of Highwood, as well as the employee organizations represented by Julio Espinoza of Waukegan, Don Cudaby of Lindenhurst, Allen H. Kaplan of Deerfield, Robert Porter of Zion, and Robert Hoard of North Chicago—have been of special significance."

Laws Can Help Used Car Buyer

You're tired of waiting for buses in zero degree weather and you won't go through that ordeal again next winter. You begin to do a little figuring and find you can swing a car—if it's a used one.

Even before you start "window shopping" in the used car lots the Illinois State Bar Association suggests you bone up on some of the laws designed to protect you in this important purchase.

(1) Illinois has an automobile warranty law which applies to new and used cars. This means if you find the car has a defect in the engine, transmission or wheel, the dealer may have to pay part of the cost to have this repaired. If you report this within 30 days after the car is delivered to you. The amount of the repair cost which the dealer may be required to pay varies from 50 percent, if the car is not more than two years old, to nothing if the automobile is more than four years old. Of course, this doesn't apply if the defect resulted from a collision you had or you abused the car so that it caused the part to become defective.

(2) If you buy a used car which the dealer offered to you "As Is," he had no liability for any repairs you find need after the sale.

(3) The used car dealer may not employ any "deception, fraud, false pretense, false promise, misrepresentation, or . . . concealment" with the intent to deceive you. To do any of these things is a deceptive sales practice.

(4) It is illegal for the seller of a used automobile to alter the mileage indicator to make it seem as if the car was previously driven fewer miles than it actually was.

(5) If you finance the cost of your used car, the law offers you a certain amount of protection. There are limits on the amount of finance charge which the seller may add to the price of a car sold on credit. A used car which is two years old has a maximum finance charge of $11 per $100 of the loan per year. The price goes to $14 per $100 per year for a car from two to four years old and $16 per $100 per year for cars older than four years.

Because the person purchasing a used car must be very careful to try to get the best bargain he can for a car which is in reasonably good running condition, ISBA offers the following tips:

a. Get the name of the car's previous owner and call him. He can tell you the car's approximate mileage at the time he traded it in, why he traded it and whether it had been in any accidents.

b. Check the oil. If it is dirty, it indicates that the seller didn't even bother with a normal pre-sale conditioning. This means he probably missed other things too.

c. Guard against the purchase of an ex-taxi, ex-police car or former fleet car. This type of car usually has been driven too hard and too far to make it a good buy. Look for holes drilled in the dashboard which might have accommodated a two-way radio in such a car.

d. Have the car you intend to

Environmental Board May Give Permits

Attorney General William J. Scott has ruled that the state's Environmental Protection Agency inherited the powers to issue permits formerly held by the Sanitary Water Board.

Scott held that the Waukegan Port District must obtain a permit from the agency before it constructs a rubber mound breakwater in Lake Michigan south of Government Pier.

Under legislation supported by the Attorney General, the agency was created last year as the state's administrative arm in combatting pollution. The legislature then repealed laws under which state water and air boards formerly operated.

The opinion was requested by William F. Cellini, director of the state Department of Public Works and Buildings.

"The General Assembly clearly intended to substitute the Environmental Protection Agency for the former Sanitary Water Board in matters involving permits," Attorney General Scott held. Any other action by the legislature would have been "highly inconsistent," he added.

Q—Is it true IRS will figure the tax and the retirement income credit for taxpayers this year?

A—Yes, as long as certain conditions are met. Briefly, these are that your income is $20,000 or less and consists entirely of wages, salaries, tips, dividends, interest, pensions and annuities. You must also take the standard deduction.

The IRS will compute your tax if you meet these conditions. Fill in the proper lines as indicated on page 2 of the instructions and mail your return to the IRS Service Center. Any retirement income credit you are entitled to will also be computed where the proper lines on Schedule R are filled in. Be sure to attach Schedule R and other necessary Schedules to your Form 1040.

After we compute your tax, you will either receive a refund or bill for additional tax due.

Q—Taxes were withheld from a part-time job I had last spring. I don't have to file a return so how do I get this money back?

A—A return must be filed to obtain a refund. Attach W-2 statement showing the wages paid and taxes withheld to the Form 1040 you complete and send it to the Internal Revenue service for your area.

Q—The address is wrong on my blue address label. What should I do?

A—Make the correction right on the label and place it on the front of the form you file.

Q—What's the change in handling of crop insurance proceeds for farmers?

A—A cash basis farmer is usually required to report income the year it is received. Under the Tax Reform Act of 1969, however, a farmer receiving insurance compensation for damaged, or destroyed crops may elect to defer reporting the proceeds until the year following the loss if the income would otherwise have been reported in any tax year following the year of destruction or damage.

Q—What's the maximum social security tax for 1970? I had two jobs and I think I paid too much.

A—The maximum social security tax is $74.40 for 1970. If more than that was withheld from your wages because you had more than one employer last year, enter the excess on line 62 of your Form 1040. This is explained in the 1040 instructions.

Q—Can you include the cost of a house hunting trip with other moving expenses for income tax purposes?

A—Yes, under certain conditions. For details on moving expenses, send a post card to your IRS district office and ask for Publication 521 and a copy of Form 3903. This form must be completed and sent in with your return if you claim this deduc-tion.

Q—My mother has just started collecting her social security pension. Does she have to pay tax on it?

A—No, social security benefits are not taxable and do not have to be reported.

Q—I drive several hundred miles a week going back and forth from my home to work. Can I deduct anything?

A—Commuting costs are a personal expense and not deductible. However, you may deduct the state and local gasoline taxes you pay as a result of this and other personal driving.

A convenient table to help you determine the amount of your gas tax deduction may be found on Page 8 of the Form 1040 instructions. It is based on the tax rate in your state, number of miles driven and type of car.

Q—Do the tax tables in the instruction book include the surcharge?

A—No, after you have determined the amount of your tax from either the table or the schedules, you will have to add the surcharge. Use the surcharge tables in the 1040 instructions to determine the surcharge.

Q—Where can I buy a copy of your income tax guide?

A—A copy of Your Federal Income Tax, Publication 17, may be purchased for 75¢ and is sold at our offices. The Tax Guide for Small Business, Publication 334, costs 75¢ and is sold at our offices. They may also be purchased from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

Social Security Number On Peel Off Label

Just as you have a bank account number, a department store account number, or a credit union account number that identifies you, you also have an account number with the Internal Revenue Service. It's your Social Security number.

Make sure your Social Security number on your tax return is accurate. Play it smart and double check the number to see that it's correct before you file your tax return.

The pre-addressed name label on the cover of your Form 1040 package has your Social Security number on it. Peel off the label and stick it on the return you file. If the Social Security number, name, or address is wrong, correct it on the label.

Your Social Security number must also be given to anyone who pays you dividends or interest. Be sure you give the right number. Double check it.

All taxpayers must have a Social Security number. Remember, your Social Security number is the key to your tax account.

American Legion Auxiliary News

By DEL JAHNEKE

Among the hundreds of American Legionnaires and Auxiliary members at the annual "Pilgrimage to Lincoln's Tomb" in Springfield, Illinois, on February 12th, were Mrs. Robert Broege, Deerfield, 10th District President; Mrs. Norman Holt, North Chicago, District Sergeant-at-Arms; Mrs. Al Dorn, Mundelein; and Mrs. William Schultz, North Chicago, both Past District Directors.

They reported that they were impressed with the Americanism aspect of the affair. The Springfield American Legion Post and Unit had arranged both the breakfasts and dinners at the St. Nicholas Hotel, for the legionnaires; and the auxiliary members at the Springfield Legion Home. Mrs. Charles Shaw of Paxton, Illinois, National President of the American Legion Auxiliary, gave an outstanding speech following the breakfast. Among the many dignitaries present were State Commanders and Presidents from many other states. The Illinois Department President, Mrs. Bernard Schmidt of Moline, gave a welcoming address.

Later in the morning, the legionnaires and auxiliary members met at Lincoln's Tomb. The National Commander of the American Legion, Alfred Chalmie of Los Angeles, California, was scheduled to make a speech which was given nation-wide radio coverage. However, he was unable to be there, as his home was badly damaged in the earthquake, and he was needed there. The National Vice Commander spoke in his stead. A patriotic and solemn ceremony was held at Abraham Lincoln's Tomb.

Mrs. Richard Brady, Gurnee, District Chaplain, reminds the unit chaplains that she needs the names of their deceased members before the April 14th District meeting, to be held in the Antioch American Legion Home. She will be conducting a Memorial Service that evening, for all the deceased members this past year. Mrs. F. A. Swenson is the Antioch Unit Chaplain.

"Many people are familiar with the story of the four armed services Chaplains who gave their lives in the sinking of the SS Dorchester, during World War II, in order to save the lives of four young servicemen," Mrs. Brady says. "A memorial to the faith of these Men of God of different faiths is the Chapel of the Four Chaplains", an interfaith Shrine located at Temple University in Philadelphia. Three altars, Catholic, Jewish and Protestant, proclaim the unity of Americans under one God. In the heart of a great city, on the campus of a great university, the Chapel of the Four Chaplains opens its doors to people of all races and religious faiths. Every Sunday there is a service of worship. At every service the altars of the three major faiths are displayed and the story of the heroic four Chaplains is retold."

This Chapel is supported by donations from many races and faiths. All American Legion Auxiliary Units of the 10th District are encouraged to send contributions to this interfaith Shrine.

The rules for the "Book of Prayers and Devotional Thoughts" Contest have been sent to the Unit Presidents. Mrs. Brady urges chaplains and unit members to enter this inspirational contest. She also suggests that Units sing the "Hymn of the Month" at their meetings, for each song carries a spiritual message and can be a rewarding experience for all.

Mrs. F. A. Swenson states that the Antioch Unit has contributed for many years to the Chapel of the Four Chaplains, conducts a memorial service for their own deceased members, and sings the "Hymn of the Month" every month.

There will be a Membership Rally of the Second Division on March 7th, at 1:30 p.m., at the Harwood American Legion Home in Joliet. Mrs. Victor Jovanovitch, Ottawa, Division President, will be the presiding officer. Mrs. Ray Rathmann, Antioch, Division Treasurer, and Mrs. Edward Jahneke, Antioch, Division Auxiliary Loan Chairman, plan to be in attendance. The 2nd Division is comprised of the 10th, 11th, 12th and 13th Districts, with a combined membership of 35,000 legionnaires and 24,000 auxiliary members, in northern Illinois.

Social Notes

By DEL JAHNEKE
Mrs. Joseph Rhymer of Antioch had a pleasant surprise this past weekend when her daughter and husband, the C. W. Wolkoff's of Urbana, visited her. On Saturday evening, the Wolkoff's had Mrs. Rhymer as their dinner guest at the Rustic Manor in Gurnee.

Some sixty members and friends of the Antioch Evangelical Free Church enjoyed a delicious dinner of turkey and beef, with all the trimmings, on February 12th. This was their annual Valentine Day's Party, and the tables were decorated with red hearts, and other valentine motifs. After the dinner, games were played, and then a movie was shown, "A Journey To The Sky", the story of an East Indian Christian.

Another casualty of this winter's icy terrain, is young Arthur Pauletti, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Pauletti, Grass Lake Road, who fell and broke his wrist. This young man is now walking "very carefully!"

The Junior Ed Jahneke's of Antioch attended the wedding of Mrs. Jahneke's brother, Mr. Richard Welch, Round Lake, to Miss Ann Beemsterboer, Grayslake, on February 20th, at St. Gilbert's Catholic Church in Grayslake. Afterwards they had a pleasant evening at the Bucaneer's Club in Mundelein.

INSIDE STORY ON DETERGENTS

Household detergents consist mainly of two basic ingredients, surfactants and phosphates.

Surfactants help the water to penetrate the clothing. Phosphates emulsify oily soil, keep dirt particles in suspension so they don't stick to the clothing when you rinse, and contribute materially to the reduction of germ levels on clothes.

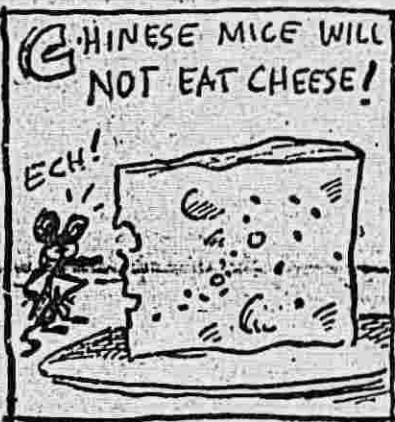

Other detergent ingredients include suds control agents, silicates, brighteners, perfumes, bleaches and borax.

Why do detergents differ in price? Because the cost of the ingredients differs. The most popular brands, in order to protect their popularity, tend to use the most expensive ingredients. Other brands use less costly things.

Instead of phosphates, for instance, you can make a detergent with combinations of citric acid and soda ash or salt cake (sodium sulfate). These substitutes don't do nearly as good a job, but they may cost less, so manufacturers eager to please all segments of the public make the lower priced detergents for people who prefer them.

To make extra sales of his substitute product, at least one manufacturer spread the charge (not really true) that phosphates cause pollution—and then printed on his package that the detergent with a low-cost substitute for phosphates was "phosphate free!"

No matter what kind of detergent you buy, don't assume that the bigger the box, the less you pay per pound. It doesn't always work that way. Two smaller boxes may cost less than one big box with twice as much in it. So compare before you choose.

Draft Extension Poses Emotional Stress - McClory

No issue in the present Congress will produce greater emotional stress than the proposal to extend the Selective Service Act (the Draft) following its expiration June 3. Notwithstanding recommendations of a presidential Commission headed by former Secretary of Defense Thomas Gates and unanimously concurred in by the bi-partisan membership of the Commission in favor of a voluntary military service, there appears to be growing support for extending the draft. The announcement by Senator Ted Kennedy that he supported extension of the draft law may have come as a surprise to many. Senator Kennedy's general opposition to the Military appears to be "overshadowed" by his announced fear that a volunteer system would result in "poor people fighting a rich man's war."

Most of those who are supporting a simple extension of the draft law reason that a volunteer system would not produce sufficient manpower to carry on the military program in which our Nation is presently involved. President Nixon's proposal appears to adopt a middle ground which would extend the draft for two years with substantial pay increases for draftees, to be followed by an all-volunteer military force in which the financial and other inducements would make a military force in which the financial and other inducements would make a military career sufficiently remunerative to attract adequate numbers of young men.

Whether the military force of this country is continued with the support of the Selective Service Law or is based upon a higher paid volunteer service, it is obvious that the total number of men under arms is to be reduced sharply. Indeed, the closing of Ft. Sheridan and other military bases reflects the general reduction in our military force—and the elimination of both military and civilian jobs at home and at our far-flung bases around the world.

Many persons are in strong support of reducing our military presence—particularly in South-east Asia, Japan, South Korea, and even in western Europe. Elimination of the draft, which would force the Military to rely solely on volunteers, would seem to provide a long step toward reducing our military involvement around the world. Indeed, it is sometimes suggested that the availability of the large numbers of young men which the draft calls, produce enables the military to maintain its widespread and expensive presence in remote parts of the globe. Reducing the total military manpower would certainly have the effect of forcing on the Pentagon a policy of a reduced military presence and a certain reduction in military expenditures.

Compulsory military service has never been the pattern of our Nation. The Draft, first enacted during the Civil War, resulted in widespread dissension and even violence. The World War I draft was immediately rescinded following the Armistice. Thereafter, the draft law enacted in 1940 was extended by a margin of only one vote, just weeks before the 1941 attack on Pearl Harbor. Continuation of the Draft since the end of World War II (1945) is quite out of harmony with traditional policy. Hearings before the House Armed Services Committee are expected to begin promptly, with a full-dress debate on the Floor of the House of Representatives scheduled for sometime in May. A vote to extend the Draft will be a hard decision for most Members of Congress to make.

Self-Employed Can Deduct Moving Expense

Self-employed persons are now entitled to deduct moving expenses on federal income tax returns. E. P. Trainor, District Director of Internal Revenue Service, Chicago District, announced. The Tax Reform Act of 1969 not only liberalized rules on deducting moving expenses but extended the deduction to self-employed people.

Additional deductions under the new law are now permitted for pre-move house-hunting trips, temporary living expenses at the new location for up to 30 days while looking for a permanent place to reside, and expenses related to selling a residence or settling a lease.

The total tax deductions for the three categories of expenses may not exceed $2500, with the deductions for house-hunting and temporary living expenses limited to $1000.

Deductible moving expenses include the cost to the taxpayer for moving himself, his family, household goods, pets, and personal effects from the old residence to the new one. For the taxpayer to qualify for the moving expense deduction, his new place of work must be 50 miles farther from his former home than his former place of work.

A self-employed person is required to perform services full-time for at least 78 weeks during the 24-month period following arrival at the new location. And not less than 39 of the 78 weeks services must be performed in the first 12 months.

Full-time employees need to meet only the 39-week rule to deduct expenses.

Abbott Lab Earnings Sales At Record High

Sales and earnings of Abbott Laboratories reached record highs for 1970. World-wide sales totaled $457.5 million, up over 13 percent from the $403.9 million posted for 1969, reported George R. Cain, Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer.

Earnings reached a record $40 million, or $2.92 a share, up 13.5 percent from 1969 earnings of $35.2 million, or $2.58 per share, before the extraordinary charge of 21c per share in that year relating to the government's restrictions on the use of cyclamate sweeteners.

Be sure all your W-2 forms and supporting schedules are attached. And make sure your arithmetic is accurate. When you compute your tax from the tax tables, take a second look to be certain you're using the table meant for you.

A careless error on your return can delay your refund by at least one full week.

Professional products sold domestically to hospitals and other institutions including hospital products, pharmaceuticals, diagnostics, laboratory products and equipment, led all other market categories with a 22 percent increase over a year ago. Pediatric products followed with a 17 percent sales increase.

"Research and development expenditures increased to the highest levels ever or approximately $27 million in 1970. Capital expenditures world-wide amounted to about $28 million," Mr. Cain added.

Fourth quarter sales were $126.5 million, up 15.5 percent from the fourth quarter of 1969. Fourth quarter earnings were $12.1 million, or 88c a share, up 13.6 percent from the $10.6 million, or 78c a share, before the extraordinary charge in the comparable period a year earlier.

Charmglow Introduces Gas Grill

Charmglow Products, the leading manufacturer of gas lights and grills, has introduced a new gas grill for 1971, designed for greater cooking capacity. It is the Charm Host model SNR, which is currently available for installation on a standard 48" post or a pedestal base.

The SNR model's circular shape allows rotisseries cooking of a large turkey or roast, and provides 363 sq. in. for quantity grilling of steaks or hamburgers. As with all other Charmglow gas grills, the SNR is crafted from heavy-duty cast aluminum so it won't ever rust. It features a chrome-plated steel grid, long-lift Charm-Rok for more even heat, and pre-assembled controls for low cost installation.

Available with an optional contour cast aluminum top, a new "star" shaped burner gives complete coverage for the circular grid.

Charmglow now offers six different designs of gas grills, with a total of 19 models, plus more than 20 designs of gas lights to match any style of architecture.

Scott Urges Ban on Thermal Water

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott has urged that nuclear power plants and other large industrial polluters of Lake Michigan be required to install closed cooling systems where scientifically feasible.
Scott stressed that closed cooling systems are the only real answer to saving Lake Michigan.
Attorney General Scott was the first witness to appear at the Illinois Pollution Control Board hearings recently in the auditorium of the Field Museum.
Scott asked the Board to adopt stringent new regulations prohibiting any significant discharge of polluted or heated water into Lake Michigan. He emphasized that existing state standards are not adequate to preserve the lake.
"No one has yet been able to tell us what will happen if we allow nuclear power plants to pour billions of gallons of heated water into the lake," Scott pointed out. "The 30 million people in the four states that depend upon Lake Michigan for the chief source of water supply can't afford to take any chances."
Scott also strongly urged adoption by the board of the recommended federal limitation on heat discharge as contained in the U. S. Department of the Interior report on the effects of waste heat on Lake Michigan.
The federal recommendations would ban return of heated water to the lake as planned by Commonwealth Edison at its new Zion plant.

The federal report says that, "... for ecological reasons, no significant discharge of waste heat into Lake Michigan should be permitted."
In advocating the closed systems, Scott noted that while alternative cooling methods such as wet and dry towers or cooling ponds which would continue to discharge water into the lake would conceivably satisfy the federal thermal recommendations, these open system alternatives may have ecological drawbacks.
Running water taken from the lake through a power plant and returning it to the lake could expose the aquatic organisms, small fish, and other life in the water to thermal, physical, and chemical shock. Such hazards are present in any open system and could destroy or seriously affect these organisms and upset the ecological balance—a viewpoint which is supported by the federal report, Scott said.
The federal report projects that within 10 years, "... about 1.1 per cent of the total volume of the water inside the 30-foot depth contour (where the eggs, larvae, and juveniles of many important Lake Michigan fishes are most abundant) will be passed through the cooling systems of power generating plants daily; and in one year a water volume equal to several times the entire water mass inside the 30-foot contour would pass through these cooling systems."

Pedestrians: Exercise Care In Crossing Street

"More than ten thousand pedestrians are injured annually in Illinois, and hundreds are killed because they insist on walking to their death," Jerry Klebe, director of the Safety Commission stated today as he issued a warning to pedestrians on the ever-increasing danger of crossing streets.

He cited the extreme danger of stepping into the trafficway with vision impaired by high coat collars, and the added hazard of blinding snow, sleet or rain, as he studied the four pedestrian deaths which have occurred in Lake County since the first of this year.

"It is a known fact that approximately a fifth of all of our fatal traffic accidents involve pedestrians," Klebe said.
Pedestrians by law normally have the right of way over vehicles although the abuse of this right has become commonplace. Director Klebe pointed out that jay walking, crossing in the middle of the block, stepping from behind parked cars, or walking against the "walk" light are the most common violations of adults while children are most prone to step into the flow of traffic from between parked cars or to dart out from roadways.

Pedestrians should remember that drivers have difficulty in stopping on icy or snow-covered streets, Klebe pointed out and urged drivers to take extreme care in urban centers near schools or shopping areas where pedestrians must also use the roadway.
